what to do."

Answer: The best advice I can offer is simple, Get at a well stocked drug store a 4 oz. jar of plain yellow minyol, directions accompanying, and use it regularly. It promotes a honithy, yigorous growth of hair and cures dandruff, inching scalp, lustreless hair and rufe falling hair. If the hair is barsa and straggling it restores a soft flur'y appearance, and brings back the intense natural color.

"Hazeilo" says. "I would certainly appreciate something that would increase my weight, and take away that languid feeling which I am subject to most of the time. My blood is weak and watery and my appetite is poor.

Answer: Your condition is very easily evercome if you will follow the directions given below. Ask your druggist for three-grain hypo-nuclane tablets and take according to the directions and your weight will increase. These fablets promote assimilation, absorption and ald digestion, transform the complexion and figure. They are prescribed by physiciams and are perfectly harmics. They should be taken regularly for several months and you can depend upon gaining flesh and that languid feeling will ranke completely.

fear appendicitis."

Answer: The neglect of constipation and indigestion is the most frequent rause of appendicitis. It is better to prevent than to cure by an operation. I advise that you obtain tablets triopeptine and take according to directions accompanying scaled carten. They are pink, white and blue to be taken morning noon and night respectively. I think many cases of appendicitis could be prevented by using triopeptine intelligently. * * *

"Mrs. C. C." writes: "Can you prescribe a tonic for one who is sieepless,

The Doctor's Answers Mrs. Wilson Is A Practical Architect

MRS. WOODROW WILSON AND PRINCETON HOME SHE DESIGNED New York, N. Y., Jan. 17 .- Much has been published telling of the clever-iess of Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of the president-elect, but few are aware that she is the architect who designed the Wilson home at Princeton, N. J. So well arranged is this house and so comfortable the interior that the entire family look with dismay on having to reside for any length of time anywhere else. Mrs. Wilson has done an immense amount of architectural work, and often acts in an advisory capacity with New York architects. Mrs. Wilson, too, is a painter of merit, and several of her landscapes have been placed on exhibition at various galleries in New York and Chicago, Fifty Years On the Stage Sarah Bernhardt and William H. Crane, Both Apenring in United States, Have Acted That Long.

HE two oldest players now appearing on the American stage are William H. Crane and Rosine Sarah Bernhardt. This year they each rounded out 50 years of active service back of the foolights. But few actors and actresses, no matter how brilliant their careers, ever manage to serve a their careers, ever manage to serve a full half century with powers unimpaired and popularity undimmed.

William H. Crane has succeeded to the title of "Dean of the American Stage" since the death of Joseph Jefferson. His 50 years of actual experience have given him a right to claim this distinction. Fifty years is a song time, whether it be measured by the passing of the seasons or by the march of events. When Crane first trod the boards back in July of 1862, the greatest war in American history was at fis height. The summer that Crane became an actor, the emancipation proclamation was issued by Lincoln. The "Divine Sarah" was an actress long before the days of the Second empire. She was a Parisian favorite when spiked helmeted Prussians encamped in the parks around Versailles. When she was in training for the career that she has since followed, the career that she has since followed, the guns of the allies were raining death on the defences of Sebastapol. First American Appearance.

On November 8, 1880, Bernhardt made her first American appearance. This was in the old Booth's theater, and since that time Bernhardt has made a number of visits to America. Her 1806 tour of America was the greatest commercial success of her long career. She carried away more than $150,000 of good American money when she salled from New York. For years she held to her determination never to appear in vaudeville, but she expects the present tour of America in vandeville to be the greatest in her history.

A remarkable old woman is Bernhardt. She is old. Very recently she celebrated her 68th birthday. She was born in Parls October 23, 1844, and from her childhood she planned to become an actress.

She is a painter of note, many of her canvasses having won favorable mention in the French exhibitions. As a sculptor she has shown great ability.
